Description

Extent: 5 folders, 1 oversize item The Harold C. Small Papers contains items from his time in the U.S. Navy, including his time aboard USS Intrepid from 1943-1945 as an officer in the Gunnery Department. The papers document shipboard activity such as a memorandum about the status of the ship's gun mounts and fire control systems at the time of commissioning, roster of officers from February 1944, newspaper clippings and a handwritten note on Intrepid stationery that appears to list last names and ratings of a few sailors. General items include a provisions list with prices, blank forms (related to charts, currents, ports, aircraft facilities) and two different editions of Fables for Flyers, cartoon cautionary tales for training pilots.
